[Sole]

Dear El-Pee,

How's your summer been?

Mine's been fine

I heard you had a real good time at camp

Oh, yeah, I talked to Len, he said everything's cool

Oh, yo, I really liked "End To End Burner"

That little diss me thing on the internet was pretty funny

Yeah it's live sucker

Uh, yeah, and I was talking, ya know,

Trying to sell my records to distributors

And they wouldn't take it because, you know

Some fat white kid figured it'd be funny to blackball

Well, you know, I wrote a little poem about it

And I really hope you like it

So have your mother read it to you

And if you guys like it you can write me back

I'm a Anticon iconoclast catalyst for cataclysm

Tell Fox dissing Sole, bad executive decision

Your egosystem's frail, with a spoon I could dissect it

Soundin' like Corky got his nubs on a websters dictionary

A Ras Kass record and a brand new MPC

Pressing all them pretty buttons making wack beats

To hell with phat beats I'd rather rock acapella

I'd rather be broke and have a whole'lotta resent

Not a rich king, a pawn, a pegan for me to pee on

Check out 9th street, a big sign, El-Pee got served in neon

Trendy indie underground 'cause you haven't got a choice

Take away your elitist buddies and you haven't got a voice

No five thousand for radio, no hundred thou for adds and banners

No paying record stores for all your Rawkus propaganda

Well-timed marketing scheme, it's cool to be independent

But if it was last year you'd be a dun or a Missy Elliot And after your indie bravado and the label has recouped You're broker than when Libra left you crying for a record deal from Luke I strike you awestruck you femanine to blackball I'll be serving you 'till you're serving me ice cream in a mall
Some fool said this is an underground Canibus and LL Well that's comedy, 'cause I'll serve all three of y'all Heard Rupert had to starve all the indie artists to feed your ego Running around the Bay looking for Sole with your foot in your mouth
I heard you like the Bay (castro) but think four tracks are wack Lost in the ozone and all your mixdowns sound like crap Hiding lack of intellect behind hipster catch phrase and babble Indellibles'll never get a full-length 'cause you don't wanna be outshined Fine, I heard you wanna kill me and get fools after me
The only violence you ever witnessed was on Menace II Society
Try to sound deep and got masses fooled by your lack of rhythm
I elevate while you perpetuate your malopropism

[Sole mimicking El-P]

Yo, wha, what did he just call me dun?
Yo, I don't know man Yo, I, I don't know what he just called you man Well, yo, go get the books, go get the Bible Yo, man, well apparently you must have ripped all the pages out in the dictionary Man, 'cause you've used all the words
So I'm never gonna find out what he called me?
He's usin' big words against me?
Yo, this is intrepid god

I'm a hip hop artist, you style biting emcee sucker Had a crayon contest with retarded kids and picked the wackest album cover Picked the wrong emcee to diss subliminally, every line dissected Yeah, I diss you on the internet, to your face and on record For the record, I know the muck from which out you have stepped First you sound like Beatnuts, then you're mr. 4,000 syllables

One bar, out of breath on stage a failure Gotta quit rockin' mics and start rockin' an asthma inhaler
El-Producto, independent as Fox
Since when do indie records show up in a W-E-A box?
By saying your independent, you belittle the whole movement
Real emcee's work hard, ain't got investors to put out their music
Underground conspiracy, but this ain't used by No Limit
Mad 'cause you didn't blow up, the victim of your own wack gimmick
But some fools bought into it 'cause they don't know no better That you're a hamburger pimp, only out for the cheddar Yo, what's a battle emcee that can't freestyle?
All those references to imaginary emcee's, come battle me
Remember in Boston, you starting calling fools out?
And when emcee's tried to battle, you were the first to break out Well, you surely don't wanna battle, of course you wanna fight, you're bigger Fine, you win, we can have a contest to see who's the biggest wigger Oh, you win again, it must feel great, I heard you don't like white emcee's Traded in your Kani and X hats for a fresh set of Echo's and Adidas
You as hip hop as Garth Brooks and as manly as gartar belts
And if you're so creative, talk about something other than yourself
No, I'm not dissing New York or any of your comrades in arms
I'm tearing down that posterboy Miss Piggy-lookin' leprachaun El-Pee vs. The Spice Girls (I got 5 on scary spice) But both of y'all are in desperate need of backup singers when it's live And I know they think you're original but follow me through this portal You bit your whole styles from an underground emcee named Vordul Spread rumors about me to everyone you meet, evade being a man I heard you're putting out an instrumental album of sitars, pots and pans

You've done enough talking, so I know you ain't fading
Sole
Have your boy Rupert Murdoch fly you out, I'll serve you on the Wake Up Show
The red-headed kingpin, step child to a little herpe sore festering Heard you only pull females when you tell'em you're a lesbian Wanna sign autographs, but all your fans are rappers
The evolution will not be televised, as your #1 fan becomes your master I'd love to give you a hand but all I got is a middle finger Farakhan won't squash this, so we can finish it on Jerry Springer
Newsweek martyr, bring your rhetoric retort You outta tootsie roll under your rock, your two minutes of fame got cut short FYI: starving artists don't have corporate luncheons Got a horrible freestyle and the rest of your style is (studio punch-ins)
The dun-crusher busts fresh overly when I blast'em And those so-called freestyles, they all popped up on your album Manipulate your connects so they wanna see me on a curb
But I guarantee you lyin' 'cause you know 1-on 1 you'd get served
Now it's time to pay dues like when Daddy Warbucks Bought your face onto the cover of the last Stress We gonna battle, so write your rhymes ahead of time And I'll still come twice as fresh And keep it all in the family, like Rose, I'll take a back seat Keep my name out your mouths like my wax from the racks of (phat beats) Fat ego's inflated, hope you liked my little poem
And hope to hear from you soon, signed, your friend,
Sole
