We dance on the surface of our hearts, and I believe it's time for closure
But bring it slow, steps will kill (they will kill)

And we are walking on broken glass, making our feet bleed
As we reach for unbroken times, we devote our lives walking endless miles

But our heart beats strong, as we walk the same road
The same viewless road
We have no targets, we have no signs
As the answers we bring don't have questions to cease
Each mile brings us closer to our hearts

Stay close together, you know sometimes we grow tired, but we walk through Every weather
We always end up taking over the world

I want to destroy you, I want to redeem you Stop, go!

We know the directions, we know how to walk, just don't be too proud to stop Always have your eyes open, you never know what awaits, the horizon gives a Lot

Our faithful ember still burns bright as we walk the same road, the same Viewless road
We have no targets, we have no signs

We know the directions, we know how to walk, just don't be too proud

But our heart beats strong as we walk the same road
The same viewless road
We have no targets, we have no signs
As the answers we bring don't have questions to cease

We have no targets, no signs
