Go

Talk to me, I know it's on your mind
Talk to me, don't take it back this time
I though it would get easier to leave
But it never is a good day
There will never come a better day to go
Just go

It would have made it easier to lie
You're so beautiful when you cry
We both know it's been coming for a while, now
But it never is a good day
There will never come a better day to go

So go, just go
This wasn't right and we need to let it go
This wasn't right and we need to let it go

Say it now, I really don't believe
There will ever come a better day to leave

Go, just go
This wasn't right and we need to let it go
This wasn't right and we need to let it go
There will never be a better day
It never is a really good day
There will never come a better day
We need to let it go
There will never be a better day
It never is a really good day
There will never come a better day to go
