With all my heart I promise you
I never meant you harm
I took a smile, some random words
And turned them into charm
'Cause I want your head to turn, your heart to break
Whenever I'm around
I took your heart, I turned it on
Then threw it on the ground

Should have told you what this all will lead too
How I'll lead you on and then I'll leave you
But I want you head to turn your heart to cave in
So I'm letting you stay until morning
And I will do you, too

With all my heart I swear to you
I never meant to lie
I almost had myself believe
I'd love you 'til I die

Should have told you what this all will lead too
How I'll lead you on and then I'll leave you
But I want you head to turn your heart to cave in
So I'm letting you stay until morning
And I will do you, too
I wanna do you, too

Should have told you what this all will lead too
How I'll lead you on and then I'll leave you

Should have told you what this all will lead too
How I'll lead you on and then I'll leave you
But I want you head to turn your heart to cave in
So I'm letting you stay until morning
And I will do you
Do you
I'm gonna do you, too

Â 'Cause I want your heart to break
Want your head to turn
