Wasting time
I called her yesterday
She stayed the night
Though it was good in every way
It still wasn't right
Because the whole night through
I could not stop thinking of you

Cause you are the one that I've been hoping to find
So why do I keep wasting time
Cause you're the one that I've been hoping to find
So why do I keep wasting time

Now who's the one to blame
When life turns out cold
When love becomes a game
Well the game's getting old
And I no longer wanna play
So may be I should ask you to stay

Cause you are the one that I've been hoping to find
So why do I keep wasting time
Cause you're the one that I've been hoping to find
So why do I keep wasting time

If every word you've said has been true
Then all the love I've made I should have made to you
I should have made to you

Cause you are the one that I've been hoping to find
So why do I keep wasting time
