My baby whistles when she walks.
But it's not because she's happy.
No, there's a cool breeze blowing outside.
And she's had a lot of body piercing.

CHORUS:

My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.

She's got a ring in her naval.
She's had her eyebrows done.
And there's a bonus when I kiss her:
Metallic taste of her tongue.

My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.

BRIDGE:

All those little holes in her flesh. She's so bohemian.
And when she runs after the bus, Sounds like sirens
screaming. (whistle)

My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.

Solo

My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
My baby whistles when she walks.
