Each to their own - no man, no throne

This is a call to all, who stand for their themselves despite their fears and faults. The longer you look down, will be the further you fall from fear. Fall from fear.

We were all once the same. No shame in who, and how we are. Why change?
For the sake of sanction from those who pose.

Fuck the fight, there is no best, wrong or right.

We were all once the same, no shame in who and how we are.

This structure that we are all apart of, apart from you, will not stand unless we find deep in our hearts a way to bind. Fuck the fight, there is no best, wrong or right, you're just like the rest.
