Pollution, sex revolution
Voodoo and hecks
Are you really ready
For what comes next

Black red yellow white and brown
Tell me what are you really putting down
Stop talking and lets start walking

Now I learned to live
Because I learned to give Little bits of my heart
Out of time

I see babies crying in the street
Mothers with no money for food to eat
I say self how can we let it be

There's gotta be, there better be
There's gotta be for you and me
A better way, a better day
There's gotta gotta gotta be a better better better way
Better way can't you see yes indeed for you and me

There gotta be a better better better better better better better way
Yeah

Men dying everywhere
And not enough of us really care
I ask myself, self how can you let it be

You pollute the heavy try to breathe
Contaminate the seas, ground and trees
My gosh what will be in 1983

Black red yellow white and brown
Tell me what are you really putting down
Stop talking and lets start walking

Stand up and be counted like a man
And every man must write down his plan

Stop talking let start doing walking

Now tell your people there's got to be
A better way, a purer, a sweeter organic way There's got to be a better day for me and you and your children in every way
There's got to be a better day, a sweeter, a purer or other way
Can't you see yes indeed

There's got got got got to be....

Pollution...sex...revolution
Voodoo and spells
Sunny trips and ringing bells

I wanna ask you

Black red yellow white and brown
Tell me what are you really putting down
Stop talking, lets start walking
