"Breathe How You Want To Breathe"

Sooner or later these feelings will disappear So live how you want to live and breathe how you want to breathe
Because sooner or later these feelings won't disappear
We just breathe to exist I used to find my future in a grain of sand

Time is the only thing that we have so what will be left Don't let this chance pass you by There is no other life time is the only thing that we have There is no other life so breathe how you want to breathe
And live how you want to live and breathe where you want to breathe
