"You Have To Look Up"

This rejection never ends,
The towers of victimisations.
Maybe this is sanity,
Or do you think it's up to me,
The collateral when it's weighed up,
Next to me.

You have to,
You have to look up.
It's hard to run away,
When all you do is crawl.

This is a better subsidy.
The course is run now for the best experience,
Will be the test time,
Is the only thing we need,
It gives me space to breathe.

You have to,
You have to look up.
It's hard to run away,
When all you do is crawl.

You have to climb,
Before you fall.
It's hard to run away,
When all you do is crawl.
It's just your cross,
To bear the strength,
To carry on,
And not just stand and stare.
