I slipped and fell with your gun in my mouth
The trigger pulled and you put me out
My misery is no concern to you
What turned out fake I thought was true

My heart around your neck
You oh so proudly wore
To this day it lies there
And I have no heart no more
Im the best part of you
And youre my worst mistake
And when you shut the door

Until the day you came
You shut me out, you shut me down
Until the day you came
When you shut the door did you hear my heart break?

Time heals all wounds
Except this one
You are the scar
I can't grow out of
Try as I might
You got the best of me
And since that night
You are a memory

Time will kill
So Kill me now

I was never so smart as when I was young
When ignorance sheltered my naive tongue
My education came straight from you
A lesson learned on the words I love you

I dont forget a face
I opt to block out yours
Distance myself from you
Let healing take its course
Each solemn tear I shed
A step away from you

You say you are confused

Is this the end
Will we begin
The end again

Time will kill
So kill me now
