"Watch And Burn"

I watch as you burn
Your life to the ground and watch as all the pieces fall How long will it take to see your mistakes But time is something you can't make

What will it take?

chorus:

I watch the world as it takes away everything that i thought would always stay and I'm in pieces now
You watch the world as it floats away it doesnt stop, it never stays the same
and im in pieces now

Its how you are when your with me that makes me think that you you dont care at all Your life is a bird Waiting to take flight but always sees the big blue sky too feared to fly

I watch the world as it takes away
everything that i thought would always stay
and I'm in pieces now
it doesnt stop, it never stays the same
and im in pieces now

How long how long will you stay right here
how long how long
till you find a way?

I watch as you burn

and I'm in pieces now
and im in pieces now

im in pieces now (2x)
