Swallow down every single drop
Here's to yours truly
For letting you live this fucking long
Don't follow the natural trend of breathing
Just march down your own line
Like you've done every time
With your dollar bills
And your thrills of abusing

All you've loved
Throw the sheets down
Blood stains somewhat easily
When hearts are crushed so violently

My message is to carry on
I would write you a better song
But you're not worth writing about [2x]

*So let it go
And run like the day is nights away
You're alright
But I'm thinking about, thinking of how
Your smile runs right through me
It kills to see you happy
But last time I checked
'Happy' needs a heart that's beating*

*Up above
Six feet under where you're stuck in hiding
I'm in love
With my apathy I might as well be*

*My message is to carry on
I would write you a better song
But you're not worth writing about [2x]*

*Your absence is a blessing baby
Your absence is a blessing baby
One on one or three on three
Your name will be the death of me*

My message is to carry on

*I would write you a better song
But you're not worth writing about [2x]*

*All I've got is this voice that's in me
All I've got is this voice that's in me
And it's my gold
You're not worth writing about [2x]*
