I check the time and its 5 AM
Tomorrow night I'll be back again

Step out into the evening
West coast air my lungs are breathing
Dreaming as I walk the streets Crosswalks all seem to talk to me
So I say, "what up?"
I'm on my way downtown
On the prowl for a male pronoun
Levi's bunched in my sneaks
I've been waiting for this night all week
The green, the yellow, the red, the lights keep flashing inside my head Could've stayed in but instead I got all dressed I'm like butter in [a slice of bread]
I feel incredible and my friends are buzzed Could do without the girls, yeah, just because Stay up till 5
It's so nice to be alive

When I, when I lose track of time
The world is mine, and I keep dancing got the whole night left
Been a lot of places but I ain't done yet

All of us up in the clouds
We roll by, they say wow
See the world
We're on top Spot it up spot so we all just hop to the doorway
we're cooler than serve Watching everybody sip your drinks
But I prefer the fins

When I, when I lose track of time
The world is mine, and I
keep dancing got the whole night left
Been a lot of places but I ain't done yet

When I, when I just melt away
The world is mine, today
Just living for the dark night sky People moving places and I don't know why

Trains pass by me on the road,
and skyscrapers with big windows
All these lego pieces
built to crash
On a slow down life time moves too fast
Trains pass by me, on the road
and skyscrapers with big windows
All these lego pieces
built to crash
On a slow down life
time moves to fast

Could it all be real Still feeling ill
dance floor on it yes, sir, I kill Chill, cause the night is young Room full of love tryin'a get me some I'm a wanna-have-friends type lady gonna find a cut boy, just maybe
But if not, then it's still all good Had a great night and I knew I would

Behind the club is a city-scape
I got a lot to do, but it can wait
You never know how it might turn out
We stay awake till the lights burn out
I feel in favor, let the record play
I got a lot of work, but it's okay
I check the time and it's 5 AM
Tomorrow night I'll be back again

When I, when I lose track of time
The world is mine, and I
keep dancing got the whole night lef
Been a lot of places but I ain't done yet

When I, when I just melt away
The world is mine, today
Just living for the dark night sk
We're moving places and I don't ask why
