Jerry stand up
Pull back the curtains and let some light in Quit your job
Becasue you hate it and it's wasting you

Once upon a time you were running
Singing to the ground every morning
Once upon a time you were

Jerry stand up
Am i the only one who's noticed that you've been missing
Remember yourself man
Remember that you have chance and possibility

Once upon a time you were running
Singing to the ground every morning
Once upon a time you were crazy

Jerry
You're not getting any younger
All you need is fresh air
A nice new suit and a walk in the park every day or two
Every day in every way

(repeat chorus)
