"Losing My Mind"

I was watching this monkey, this monkey watching me
Then I needed a friend, or some company
Coz some days I just can't flick the switch
Some days my skin just isn't so thick
Im just here and Im just hearing
I get lost inside the endless wires
Helpless as the new ross fire
Ill be up all night waiting for the punch line
If Im losing my mind, one day at a time
Then I wont hold my breath
So turn the house upside down
To find something worth thinking about
And patiently watch the walls close in on me
I stare into space until I see
Its space that's staring into me
We talk a while and we say our goodbyes
If Im losing my mind, one day at a time
From talking to myself
If I travel through time one day at a time
Then I wont hold my breath, hold my breath, hold my breath
No I wont hold my breath
I said I wont hold my breath yeah, yeah ooh
If Im losing my mind, one day at a time
From talking to myself, talking, talking
If I travel through time one day at a time
Then I wont hold my breath waiting for the punch line
Ooohhh, ooohhh, ooohhh
