I can see a new life
A new chance
A new place
Sing it out loud so
It will be heard

I'm waiting for my train to
I'm waiting for my train to
Come along and pick me up to show

Where the sun is rising
Where the sun is rising
And where all the ideas coming from

I can see a new life
A new chance
A new place
Sing it out loud so
It will be heard

I'm looking at the day break
Everyone is busy
It seems to me that this day will be great

I can see a new life
A new chance
A new place
Sing it out loud so
It will be heard

The world is in danger
And we're all involved
Something is wrong here
And I can't say what

The sky is so empty
It's color turned red
The trees start to burn
And the grass starts to die

Something's beginning

And something will end
My body is changing
I can't feel a thing

The mountains are melting
The Sea is away
Clouds start to rise
And men start to fall.
