down the hall it's the same counting the footsteps taking your deep breaths such a suspicious calm
a day is a day
home is home
and everything everything is as it seems regardless of you and me images linger on even after it's gone mirrors make you go on forever inside these rooms nothing ever ends it can glow on your face drive you insane (x3)
if you want me to take all those things down throw them away
you never liked them anyway you've got your hammer out and you're hammering down the corners at last but you're laying claim gathering everyone around so you can drive them drive them away (x3)
if you want me to gather everyone around send them away
you never liked them anyway (x4)
everything
