We drove across the park to see the lake
We were sober but we got over it
We got over it
Our heads were spinning round
And we sang the songs from underground
We dug 'em up and we shit 'em out
And we burned the whole damn city to the ground

Yes, I measure a man by the size of his waist
And the weight of his hand
And yes, I hope you do the same for me
Cause every life is a price
And it's based on your right
And it's based on your fight
And it's based on the right that you have inside to be free
