I am floatin' on the reason why we get up everyday
Is it just so I can torture myself?
Could I be responsible for my mistaken peace of mind?
This is the only place I am happy

I can jump up and down, who will listen to me?
Say will you, 'cause I can hear that subtle sound
The waves crashing in the distance

We can succeed
If there's a will, then there's a way
All that we need, is riding in our wake

As the sun rises, and I look into the sky
What I see is lacking
I look away for the reason that did hurt my eyes
Punctuation lacking

I can jump up and down, who will listen to me?
Say will you, 'cause I can hear that subtle sound
The waves crashing in the distance

We can succeed
If there's a will, then there's a way
All that we need, is riding in our wake

We can succeed
If there's a will, then there's a way
All that we need, is riding in our wake

I can jump up and down, who will listen to me?
Say will you, 'cause I can hear that subtle sound
The waves crashing in the distance
