"Love With No Limits"

Hello?

I'm trying to get through to the other side, I'm dying to find someone who feels alive. Someone who knows how it feels to feel alone. A house is made from bricks, doesn't make it a home. I heard you screaming from the bathroom floor "Don't comedown again"

Think of your life, think of your world.

With no one in it.

Imagine a love, Imagine our love

With no limits

You treated her bad, You treated her so bad.

Did it make you feel good? did it make you feel like a man?
