

Sonata Arctica "San Sebastian"

Visit "San Sebastian" on MotoLyrics.com

I could see my life
Short film passing my eyes
I tried to look away from her
As always I just tried

Sweetness in her eyes
Gone through one million miles
How could I turn my back on her
The sweetest thing alive?

I was eager, day time dreamer
Waiting time when I'd come alive

Sun of San Sebastian
Eighteen years young today
She's all I ever dreamed
But now my skies are turning gray

It was good, I got to know her well
Because it made me see
That the sun of San Sebastian
Is just too hot for me

Look what I have done
To my San Sebastian
I wasted all my childhood dreams
By staring at the sun

Back in time with a dream of mine
I try to find my way back to life
Burning fever, night time screamer
Waiting time when I'd come alive

Sun of San Sebastian
Oh, why I cannot stay
She's all I ever dreamed
But now my skies are turning gray

It was good, I got to know her well
Because it made me see
That the sun of San Sebastian
Is just too hot for me

Every single day
For the rest of my way
I live without my love, my God
I have to stay in shade

When I'm old and gray
I remember that day
When she came, that perfect dame
And she blew me away

I was eager, day time dreamer
Waiting time when I'd come alive

Oh, was it good, I got to know her well
Although it made me see
That the sun of San Sebastian
Is way too hot for me, now?

Oh, now I live my life in shades
And I am married to the moon
And the sun of San Sebastian
Is warming someone new

Visit Sonata Arctica page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.