Let it go, everyone's bound to know
That I've lost you again
This time you wound up with someone else
Your own will let me down

Put your arms around me
For the first and last time
And say sincerely
That you'll keep me in mind

'Cause time won't wait till it's too late
To find out who you were
If you had let me make one honest mistake
I'd try to change your mind

I try to set an example for
All of those who blame their luck
But you seem to know where you're heading now
I know this and that's not much

Tell me all the things
That you never dared to say
Say you're glad you told me
That he isn't going to stay

'Cause time won't wait till it's too late
To find out who you were
If you had let me make one honest mistake
I'd try to change your mind

We've sent letters out there but you don't care
You know you'll manage alone
We've sent letters to you they never get through
'Cause you'll get by on your own

If you are to change your mind
Don't think I'll forget where I have been I'll stay till this torments over
And I know not where I'm going
Make it easy on me please

I have no choice but to let it go though I know you'll still be here

But I'll never know you the way he does Let me know if I will

'Cause time won't wait till it's too late
To find out who you were
If you had let me make one honest mistake
I'd try to change your mind

We've sent letters out there but you don't care
You know you'll manage alone
We've sent letters to you they never get through
'Cause you'll get by on your own

It's too late, it's too late, too late, too late
Too late, too late, too late
It's too late, it's too late, too late, too late
Too late, too late, too late
