Summer killed the ones you loved
I hesitate and tell you
When people leave without goodbye
I lose another brick

The buildings are tall
The world explains all
And here I stand and face myself
I lead the way for us

I've frozen down my memory
It's morning when she gets up
She puts on Lionel Ritchie
I've already had enough

The queues are long
Guess I am wrong
This chemical environment
Is getting out of hand

Virtue and wine
Cannot help you swim
Pain and sorrow
Must come if you go

It's the chemistry
And the things we should'nt do
I am nothing without you
Ba-ba-da-ba-ba-ba-ba
