If you lead the way I will watch your back!

Hundred miles away from home,
I have never felt so cold.
My youth's not gone but I'm feelin' tired and old.
... but I wont cry for girls or broken promises made by you and me.

I don't know if I should play this game one more time.

Without any certain reason I've been thrown against the wall
because I look so fucking funny every fucking time I fall.
... but I assure you I will have my sweet revenge
someday upon them all.

I don't know if I should play this game one more time.
I don't know if I should play this game one more time.

I wont make this on my own
but if you lead the way, I will watch your back.
If you lead the way, I will watch your back.
If you lead the way, I will watch your back.

I don't know if I should play this game one more time.
I don't know if I should play this game one more time.
I don't know if I should play this game one more time.
I don't know...
