

Turning Point

"Tonight"

Tonight we fight for wrong or right.
We don't need no clearer sight.

We could've fought against ourselves,
the problem is in all our heads.
It all depends on fate,
but the leaders just can't resonate.

I need money I've got mouths to feed.
Don't want to give up all the hope for all my dreams.
The rich men keeps on forcing us to suffocate.
But every dead man is another man to waste.

Leaders 'round the world,
will you never learn?

Why don't you fight your wars on your own?
... you would die alone.
Why don't you fight your wars on your own?
... you would die alone.

-Interlude-

-Guitarsolo-

Why don't you fight your wars on your own?
... you would die alone.
Why don't you fight your wars on your own?
... you would die alone.
Why don't you fight your wars on your own?
... you would die alone.
Why don't you fight your wars on your own?
... you would die alone.
