Watch the break through the silence
Drama fills up the air
And she looks like a goddess rising
A touch of gold in her hair
Here it comes again
The one and great undying love
I lose my head again
As her love shines on
How I wish that she could belong
In my arms
Here she comes like a sunset
To turn my blue into purple red
And she spreads like the star at night
Her silver over hearts unfed
Here it comes again
The one and the great undying love
I lose my head again
As her love shines on
How I wish that she could belong
In my arms
Here she comes to rescue me rescue me rescue me
She's all and everything
Everything I need
She comes to bring me back take me home
Set me free
Here it comes again
The one and great undying love
I lose my head again
The one and great undying love
Here it comes again
The one and great undying love
I lose my head again
As her love shines on
How I wish that she could be strong in my arms
In my arms
