Close your eyes, let the rhythm take you slowly through the night
Let the music play forever on and on
And your colors they will never be denied
You, You are the one

And still my world belongs to you
Still my world can wait
Still my world that's what you do every night and day

May the stars forever shine on you and light the way
On mysterious roads and darkened landscapes
And in a while you don't need me anymore
Well I, I want you to know

Still my world belongs to you
Still my world can wait
Still my world that's what you do every night and day

Do do do do do ...
Do do do do do ...

Still my world belongs to you
Still my world can wait
Still my world that's what you do, night and day

Close your eyes let the rhythm take you gently down the road
May the music stay forever in your soul
