You cover me with peace until the war is over Still the hurting will remain 'cause tonight is getting colder if the road that we walk upon should turn back and not straight on

And lately I've been trying not to fall apart, still my heart
says after all we've been through love is still to be found in the dark
We can work it out, we can work it out

You walked into my room and everything was broken And you brought me back to life, took my pain unspoken
And I saw how hard you tried Yeah, I could feel the pain inside

heart
says after all we've been through love is still around in the dark
We can work it out, we can work it out
Oh-oh
We can work it out, we can work it out
