(Johnny Warman / Nick Graham)

It's a brand new beginning on a bright sunny day Makes me just feel like singing I'm so happy to say that it sure feels like heaven not a cloud in the sky
This is our world, our world

I can still hear the ocean calling to me
Feel a change in the wind as it blows through the trees
Right up to the mountains where the eagles fly free
This is our world, our world

There are times when life seems so crazy
Sometimes we laugh and sometimes we cry but through it all the beauty we see gives us
all that we need to survive
We're alive

In the eyes of the children the wonder still shines
It's a new generation and this is their time
When our lives are over and it's their turn to sing
This is our world, our world

The beauty we see gives us
all that we need to survive
We're alive

Feel the power of love, power
See the light from above, power
Feel the rain on your face
Hear the whole human race
This is our world, our world
