(P. Crosby / Yoyo)

I was the girl who let you into my heart
Should've listened to all the things they said
'cause I've been fooled again
A broken heart since when
And now I see of what is left for me

Walk away lover stole my heart, I've nothing to give You promised me everything from love to just a kiss
And I was a fool to think you could ever change your ways
Walk away lover, seems you're always walking away

Deep inside I thought that we were meant to be Put aside the things that clouded my mind
'cause I was true to you What else could I do to make alive and have the dreams of love

Walk away lover stole my heart, I've nothing to give You promised me everything from love to just a kiss
ways
Oh, walk away lover, seems you're always, always walking away

Walk away lover stole my heart, I've nothing to give You promised me everything from love to just a kiss
ways
Walk away lover, seems you're always walking away

Walk away lover stole my heart, I've nothing to give You promised me everything, walk away, from love to just a kiss
And I was a fool to think, I was a fool, you could ever change your ways
Walk away lover, seems you're always walking away
