[Kim]

Spinning dreams with angel wings torn blue jeans a foolish grin burning down in the night so cool so right
star power star power star power over me she knows how to make love to me she knows how to make love close my eyes and think of you everything turns black to blue

supercool it's alright
she knows how to make love to me
close my mind when i think of you everything turns black to blue
