Rainbow from your eyes and fill the skies, Blow your tears away
Sunbeams chase the mist and you must insist, Tomorrow is today
From your dreams you're 'waking, As the dawn is breaking
See the things that summer brings, When winter hides in snow
Things you've feared become the weird, Fantastic shadow show
Change the world you're facing, In the nighttime's racing
Only you will find you can't show the blind, Time will tell
it's true
When you're agrown only you have known, It will not change you
When you're off on that fairgrounds ride, No time to hang around
Don't hide away 'cause tomorrow is changing Sea gull's quest will bring no rest, Till fantasy gets through
A mirror can reflect what you reject, Dreams that could be true
Harbour of the morning, Burns the ship of dawning
Only you will find you can't show the blind, Time will tell
it's true
When you're agrown only you have known, It will not
change you
When you're off on that fairgrounds ride, No time to
Sea gull's quest will bring no rest, Till fantasy gets
through
A mirror can reflect what you reject, Dreams that could
be true
Harbour of the morning, Burns the ship of dawning
