Hurry down, sunshine, see what tomorrow brings
Hurry down, sunshine, see what tomorrow brings
Well, it may bring sunshine and again it may bring rain

Tell me, tell me, baby how can it be Tell me, tell me, baby, tell me how can it be You can love everybody, what in the world is wrong with me

Watch me play the flute

Today, today, today it's been a long old lonesome day
Today, today, today it's been a long old lonesome day
Lord, I can sit right here, look a million miles away

These are my blues, they follow me everywhere
These are my blues, they follow me everywhere
But when the blues gets on me, I don't care when or where

Loan me some booze, sonny boy

One more time, one more wine

All right Benny boy

Today, today, today been along a lonesome day
Today, today, today been along a lonesome day
Well, I can sit right here, look a million miles away

Well, just look out it's raining, my poor feet is on the ground
Well, just look out it's raining, my poor feet is on the ground
'Cause these woman I made so happy, after every man in town

How would you play like that
