

Ulysses And The Squares

"A Preacher's Love"

Visit "A Preacher's Love" on MotoLyrics.com

As I went out one morning To breathe the air around Tom Paine He talked me into proving that, liberty is something we'd like to share
Then he dragged me into a church, saying 'I would like to touch you there' I fled into a barren land, where they made me a member of parliament

Teacher said 'come see me after lunch,
You know that I really like to touch your skin, touch your hair'
She said when we were alone 'there are some wounds that the skin doesn't show'
I walked out and now I'm here, one more trick and then I'll disappear
Maybe someday they'll all say, you have changed but we've all stayed the same

Visit Ulysses And The Squares page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.