No one reaches me, like I do
No one crawls for me, for fun
No one touches me, like I do
No one touches you for fun

So we came to the airport all embedded in ice
With our hands tight behind our backs with fire Then the captain said to me boy I want to steal your elders
And I said "What do you want them for, they ain't worth a penny"
But then I saw her leaving for South-America,
And I've been in a church singing songs to God but he,
Was never there

Until one day he said to me
"Will you kill your own son?"
I said you must be mistaken man I ain't got no one
Then he said to the next best thing
Slit your own damn throat
And he said I have this fantasy where I dress up like a ghost

Please don't leave me here
My love won't you love me here
