I've been down before
And got up again
But I never felt this way
Every step we take
Gets up further from ourselves
Even if you're gone
And you're history now
I've been longing for your smile
I just used to think
We were meant to be as one.

I'm a fool
I know
But it's not a matter of who is right or wrong?
Maybe we could make it up
But we just can't help but feeling
Something has been lost along the way
And I know
I know it's much too late.

We've been down that road
Many times before
But it never hurt so bad
There's no looking back
We just bleed and breathe the air
I just used to love
How you held me back
When I tried to get away
But it's useless now
Something has been lost forever.

I'm a fool
I know
But it's not a matter of who is right or wrong?
Maybe we could make it up

But we just can't help but feeling
Something has been lost along the way
And I know
I know it's much too late.

I'm a fool
I know
I was sure that we would rise as we would fall
Maybe we could make it up
But you dream about yourself now
When I try to stop this time from running out
I know.
