Don't wake, love, before it's time
Don't do anything unkind
Let the world around you
See the light surround you

Try and have a little faith
Don't do anything in vain
Let the world around you
See the light surround you

Beauty fades and temples raised
For kings will rise and fall
The atmosphere will disappear
But love will conquer all

Hold me closer to your breast
I need your kiss of scarlet red
Let the world around us
See the light surround us

See the white doves in your eyes
My beloved, how you shine
Let the world around us
See the light surround us

Beauty fades and temples raised
For kings will rise and fall
The atmosphere will disappear
But love will conquer all

Love, sweeter than the taste of wine
Far beyond the realm of time
Flowing through your heart and mind

Love makes lilies of the field unfold
The rivers and the streams run home
It's deeper than the flesh
Deeper than the flesh and bone

Beauty fades and temples raised
For kings will rise and fall
The atmosphere will disappear

But love will conquer all
