I pray the world would see Your true love
I pray the world would see Your true grace
A grace that give life to the dead
A grace that death can't even face

I pray the world would see your true love
I pray the world would see your true grace
A grace that gives sight to the blind,
A grace that only you can place...

I know it starts with me
Reflecting Your love,
I will give you all of me

You gave Your life for the dead of this world
So I will give my life
You shined Your light in the dark of this world
So I will shine Your light

It's a revolution, without words
And only LOVE

Compassion, Conviction, Humility
We will wear it proudly
