I could see my life, short film passing my eyes
I tried to look away from her, as always I just tried

Sweetness in her eyes, gone thru one million miles How could I turn my back on her, the sweetest thing alive

I was eager, day time dreamer, waiting time when I'd come alive

Sun of San Sebastian eighteen years young today She's all I ever dreamed, but now my skies are turning gray
It was good I got to know her well, because it made me
see
That the sun of San Sebastian is just too hot for me

Look what I have done to my San Sebastian
I wasted all my childhood dreams by staring at sun

Back in time with a dream of mine
I try to find my way back to life

Burning fever, night time screamer, waiting time when I'd come alive

Sun of San Sebastian oh why I cannot stay She's all I ever dreamed, but now my skies are turning
gray
It was good I got to know her well, because it made me
see
That the sun of San Sebastian is just too hot for me

Every single day, for the rest of my way
I live without my love, my God, I have to stay in shade
When I'm old and gray, I remember that day When she came, that perfect dame and she blew me away

I was eager, day time dreamer, waiting time when I'd
come alive

Oo-oo...

Was it good I got to know her well although it made me
see

That the sun of San Sebastian is way too hot for me?

Oo-oo..

Now I live my life in shades and I am married to the moon

And the sun of San Sebastian is warming someone new
