There's a loving walks of mine
Around the blues of a midnight rain
There's a love without fighting
There's a love without pain
There's a love without question
There's a love to won
Is it true that's on their lying?
Tears of change that must be done
Tears of change in a world that's slowly dying
There's no denying when love walks astray

To believe in this love is to travel
To the reaches and beyond without fear
To the lessons unraveled in ours
To the spirit that brought it here
To a love without question
To a love that will be one
As a truth that's under light
Tears of change that must be done

Will be distance to discourage the weary
Looking for love and the way across
There will be lights for the lost and wayward
Songs for love for the hour and the cause
To a love without question
To a love that will won
Is it true that's on their lying?
Tears of change that must be done
Tears of change in a world that's slowly dying
There's no denying when love walks astray
