Still breaking through, still breaking, breaking through,
still

The dogs have drowned, stealing young Slow motion highway, dreams of dust 80s and hearts are burning through So here goes, through narrow doors

Still breaking through, still breaking, breaking through,
still

Reckless days I've wandered Breaking the fall with trampoline feet Worked it on, stand clear of the closing doors Faces are extreme or weary or warm

Still breaking through, still breaking, breaking through,
still

Oh, I've been real tired Shaken and stirred inside the waking world Fake fires and justice on the wishing well Face down in the dirt, far the dream fell

I don't understand it, I don't understand it, I don't understand it

understand it

understand it

Sweet escape, that's tranquilizer Sweet escape, every direction Sweet escape, now a choice is taken Sweet escape, the holy meditation

understand it
