His obligated passion
Shows his indecision
It tears him up inside
Searching for a reason
To continue dying
He wants the narrow wide
The tears you cries are not in vein
He knows your thoughts and feels your pain
The tears you cried that hurt so much
Can be gone with just one touch
Hearing parents screaming
She'll continue dreaming
She prays the fights will end
All she wants to give them
Is a love to heal them
Don't give up on them
Don't give up don't give in
He'll be there to take your hand
If you stand you will win
You will see your promised land
