Living everyday and I keep putting on my mask
I wanna change, but I'm too insecure to ask
Would receive it, I need to see it
Or would you laugh it all off and make-believe it
Why do I hate what I have become
It seems the more that I try the less I overcome
And I can't rewind the hands of time and try to find
Where I was blind and change my mind
I see the way you're living and it's starting to make me sick
You have the cure and I'd do anything to it
My thoughts scrambled, my mind mangled
The confusion is more than what I can handle
Please give me what I need
My eyes can't see this clearly
Please give me what I need
Show me the Way
A little bit of nothing is a whole lot of what I've got I'll keep on giving and I'll give it my very best shot
Keep my eyes on getting the prize won
I'm never going back to the place where I came from Hey, you know, this might be worth it
Even though I know that I don't deserve it
My breathe I wasted, defeat I tasted
Now it's all gone and His love replaced it
I kiss it good-bye, yes I kiss it good-bye, oh
I never want to see it again that right, yo
Taunt me, flaunt me, even try to haunt me
Try to slow me down, but I know you'll never stop me
You gave me what I need
My eyes now se so clearly
You gave me what I need
You showed me the Way
