girls (want everything they see)

I'd like someone to hold me I don't like the way you tease me through the night you tell me you've got something for me why don't go ahead and make this wrong a right?

do you wanna make me crazy? torture me with what I see but cannot touch why do you spend the evening with me?
are you not content or do I ask for much?

girls want everything they see don't you play your games with me you can be so very friendly are you afraid you're gonna overstep my line? cautiousness can come in handy but how could you overlook my ready-signs?

do you wanna test my patience? if you do, you have been taking it too far I am melting like an ice cube wanna take the wrapping off my chocolate bar but you know you're wrong and I know I'm right and no one 's going putting out my light I'll get you there

tonight, I swear
