How many people feel this way ?
Same shit, different day,
Seems everybody's got something to say,
Desperate acts, foul play
How could God have made us this way ?
We're all just left to go our own way
And it seems everybody's got something to pray
Pray for self, but self is prey !

How many generations will it take?
Before our species becomes totally fake
Disconnected from nature, and severed from wake
No disrespect - but for God's sake!
How much longer will we pretend we're blind?
So little respect for our own kind
In the future what do we expect to find ?
But it's not in our lifetime, so why do we mind
