If you're still a dreamer you'll be nothing more than air nothing more than a rainbow just colours in the air

If you're still a lonewolf the desert will be your home the desert with a flower just blooming for the moon

If you're still a seeker you'll stumble with in the night stumble with blue eyes open just a flash before the crashing light

If you're still a letter with secrets to the end you'll be hidden in the fire smoke broken up by rain

If you're still a believer this time of the day you'll be nothing more than a romantic a lover that dreams it all away
