It comes from somewhere
To someone it belongs
It's needing its hearts
It's choosing among

It's got no name
The one
With the most pain

How many days
How many nights
What will we do
To treat them right

It's strange how time
Plays God sometimes

Sorrow calls
Sorrow takes Sorrow must be
God's mistake

I'm losing a morning
Every time you're not there
I'm losing my life
Now I don't care

You were mine
And now stops time
