is there any limit to this will it ever end.
try to find away around it its no use to fix it its really just as bad as it could ever be your so descreat my only hope, is to reject thee images that hold my dreams im holding on for one more day theres nothing you can do or say

im holding on to what is true your here whenever i need you to show me all the things i really like i can hold a million secrets and still i broke the lies (uhooo ooo whoa) all the guilt the whole world keeps in in a safe for us behind my eyesss its magical you are to say i see it any other way just take it all, erase the faith get rid of this, oh god i pray

to show me all the things that really last im crossed against, the cold hard world with no defense, at all!!! instead i know to find the pleasure is to got to leave me stranded here tonight im holding on to you something to show you that i can get through the pain i once knew im holding on for you!!!

to change the way i feel about the
