Visit "Speak Of Pain" on MotoLyrics.com

I have traveled many miles to find you again like a vagrant in the night sifting through the strange remains I'm standing worn and tired

Raw to the soul
heavy hearted, cloudy minded
I'm craving a home
And I speak of pain
but you answer in love
I swear I don't know the difference
I can't feel the difference
I don't know the difference anymore
I have traveled many miles kept time with my face with a beggar's lonely eyes in search of a familiar place
I'm standing worn and tired
raw to the soul
heavy hearted, cloudy minded
I'm craving a home
And I speak of pain
but you answer in love
And I scream my pain but you hear only love
I swear I don't know the difference
I can't feel the difference
I don't know the difference anymore
What if I had one wish to make guaranteed to come true I'd close my eyes and envision my life again with you
